Why go to church?

A church-goer complained to his minister: "wrote I've been coming to church every Sunday for 30 years, and in that time I have heard thousands of sermons, but for the life of me, I can't think of a single one now. So I think I have wasted my time."

The minister thought for a moment and replied: "I've been married for 30 years and my wife has cooked me thousands of meals. For the life of me I can't recall the entire menu of a single one of those meals now. But I do know that each one nourished me and gave me strength to carry on living. If my wife had not given me those meals, I would have been stunted and eventually starved. Without regular Christian nourishment, we also will starve – spiritually."

Dear All,

As I prepare this article, Remembrance Sunday is just over five weeks away. I am deeply honoured, and not a little humbled, to have been again invited to conduct the service at Stalybridge Cenotaph. Hopefully this parade and service will be well attended; indeed the number of people attending has grown in recent years. I doubt it is necessary for me to suggest any reasons for this but it is well known that we British always hold the men and women of Her Majesty's Armed Forces in special affection, but of course, not everybody will agree and that is their right, given that we all wish to live in a liberal democracy.

A few years ago I was astounded to discover that since 1945 there has only been one, yes, just ONE year when our armed forces have not been involved in hostilities of one sort or another and that year was 1968. In August 1969 the Army was sent onto the streets of Northern Ireland to assist the (then) Royal Ulster Constabulary and you know the rest of that story.

Ninety five years ago a Chief Engineer was home on leave and just about to leave his nine year old son, his seven year old daughter and his pregnant wife in order to rejoin his ship. Remember, in those days radio communication was in its infancy and there was no such thing as airmail letters, so long periods of separation and silence were the norm. One the morning of his departure they found a white feather through the letter box, the sign that somebody considered him a coward. He rejoined his ship and little was heard for several months, until one day a telegram arrived. As you may know, a telegram was the standard way in those days of bringing bad news and this was no exception. His ship was missing and so were all the crew, presumed drowned. Mrs Stewart, my paternal grandmother had become one of the millions of WW1 widows; she later gave birth to their third child, a daughter who never knew her father. It was subsequently ascertained that the ship had struck a mine in British territorial waters and indeed there were no survivors but the date was, I think, especially poignant – the 9th. November, 1918, just forty eight hours before that war officially ended.

Sadly, many, many millions of people have died since as a result of warfare and still are, probably as you read this. Try to work out just how many conflicts are being fought in the world just at the present time. We might know how to split the atom but how to reconcile so many (seemingly) bitterly divided people seems to permanently elude us. Can the Bible help us?

At first sight, the best answer might well be, "doubtful." The character of God Himself is described variously as, "God of peace" but also "Warrior". However, as with so many things connected with Christianity, we shouldn't give up at the first opportunity, as so many seem to do today, often simply to suit their own warped agenda. Even Hitler found a corrupted bishop to espouse his doctrine of hatred.

Many times we seek to be God-like and we have to remember that God's character is such that He never gives up on us. Also, He never gives up the fight on our behalf against all forms of evil and oppression. To this end He even sacrificed his son Jesus to a cruel death upon the cross to save us. And yet, what were the first words of Jesus after His resurrection? "Peace be with you."

We are involved in a war – God's war. We should be fighting against all opposition to His rule. Our target is sin, and only when sin is defeated, in all its many forms, will we find true peace.

If we aren't all peacemakers we should be. Does this mean literally turning the other cheek to receive the next blow? No, Jesus meant that a positive approach to peace is never cowardice nor passive submission to evil. Perhaps the Christian fights best when announcing peace as opposed to war!

So, what weapons of peace are available to us? Consider:- clear teaching to confront evil, a willingness to speak to our enemies, expressing love, understanding and respect, and a desire to negotiate whenever possible. Violence should, ideally, always be the last resort.

Now, it is axiomatic that not all people will agree with the above, and that is the prerogative of us all but, please remember this. If it was not for those we remember on 11 11 at 11, many of us might not be here today to voice our dissent. May they truly rest in peace and rise in glory. Amen.

Keith.

Operation Christmas Child-2013

It's that time of the year again- let's get the shoeboxes out and fill them with little gifts for the needy children of this world.

There will be leaflets available in the church lounge.

We need all our shoeboxes from St. Georges to be at church by Sunday 17th. November 2013.

We have been very good at responding to this cause over many years in spite of many other good causes as well as keeping our church going. For all this, I thank you.

In addition to doing a shoebox, you may wish to help at the warehouse which is in Ashton, (details below) This is where all our boxes go, along with thousands of others collected from our area.

The warehouse will shortly be opening and it is hoped that many, old and new volunteers, will be able to help out over the next few weeks.

This year's warehouse is again at UNIT 5, PLANTATION INDUSTRIAL ESTATE, WHITELANDS ROAD, ASHTON. OL6 6UZ.

There are tea/coffee-making facilities and toilets in the warehouse.

The warehouse will open from Wednesday 13th November until Wednesday 4th December.

The revised opening hours are going to be: -

Monday, Tuesday and Friday 10:00 to 18:00
Wednesday and Thursday 10:00 to 20:00
Saturday 16th and 23rd November 10:00 to 14:00
Sundays – closed

Last year the Manchester warehouse sent out an amazing 39,500 shoeboxes. Checking the shoeboxes is really valuable work. If you know anyone else who might be interested in volunteering, please let him or her know where the warehouse is located.

Our boxes are going to the following countries: Belarus, Rwanda, Kyrgyzstan, Romania and Swaziland.

I really do hope that you are able to help make this years campaign a success.

Poppies for Remembrance

The annual Poppy Appeal is now underway. Did you ever wonder how it all began?

It seems that poppies were first suggested as a symbol of Remembrance in the USA by a Miss Moina Michael, way back in November 1918. The American Legion used them in 1920, and then in 1921 Madame Guerin introduced her poppies, made by widows of a French-American charity, to the British Legion.

The next suitable occasion for a poppy-linked appeal was Armistice Day, and the British Legion took a big chance: they had no idea if the poppies would 'catch on' over here or not, but went ahead, ordered nine million, and held their breath...

On the day itself, the first poppy was bought in London a few seconds after midnight. The poppies were on sale at an official price of threepence but before breakfast single petals were selling Smithfield Market for £5. All day long motor cars fetched poppies and crate after crate was emptied until supplies ran out. A message from Queen Mary brought sellers to Buckingham Palace, but hearing that poppies were in short supply, she bought only two.

A basket of poppies auctioned at Christies raised nearly £500.

That first appeal raised £106,000 (nearly £30 million in today's terms). In 1922 the "Poppy Factory" was established in the UK and has been employing disabled ex-Servicemen to make the poppies ever since. Poppies were "sold" when the appeal started. Nowadays, charity legislation requires them to be 'distributed in return for donations'.

Gift Day Request

You know when Christmas time draws near
And you make a list of names
Of those to whom you'll give a gift?
(Some perfume, socks or games).

Would it be possible for you
To add an extra gift?
One for St. George's Parish Church
(Its coffers need a lift).

We know this church is greatly loved
By those who worship here
But as you know - just like at home
(The costs go up each year).

There is to be a Gift Day
On December 1st - so please
Could you afford to contribute
(Our 'present' plight to ease)?

Whatever sum is given
Will help us on our way
To meet our obligations
(And all our bills to pay).

So when you make that Christmas list
Remember these few lines
And heartfelt thanks to those who give
To us, so many, many times.
