A Letter From New Zealand

This month we feature, as our lead article, an e-mail that we received recently from a gentleman called Joe Rodrigues who lives in New Zealand. On our church website (www.stg.org.uk) he had seen one of the archive photographs of an Old St. George's Boys Brigade Summer Camp that took place in 1938. We replied to Joe to ask permission to print his reminiscences and he was happy for us to do that.

Here is what he said:

I am one of the boys in the photo taken on the beach at Red Wharf Bay, Anglesey, where we were enjoying our annual camp.

I was a member of the 1st Stalybridge Boys' Brigade Company for five years in the early 1930s, commanded by Capt. Bert Wainwright. Other photos on your website show the Brigade on Church Parade etc. I also attended Old St. George's Church and Sunday School. I am now 95 and busy with my community work.

When I enlisted in the Royal Corps of Signals in 1939 at 18, my recruit's training was made so much easier as I had a sound foundation to start with. I became a Commissioned Officer at 22 and took part in the D Day Normandy invasion in June 1944. After France had been liberated, I was posted to 7th Armoured Division (Desert Rats). We went on to battle our way through Belgium, Holland and Germany until we captured Hamburg in early May 1945. After a few days rest, we were selected to represent Britain in the four-power occupation of Berlin. I took part in the Victory Parade in July, 1945. Here is a photo of the occasion:

131st Brigade HQ and Signals Squadron marching towards the saluting dais, during Victory Parade. Leading this detachment is Captain Gordon Pelmore, R.Signals followed by Capt. Wadham and Lieut. J.F.C.(Joe) Rodrigues (centre of picture)

I have recently been advised by the British Government that I am to receive the Legion d'Honneur Medal from the French Government to mark the 70th Anniversary of D Day.

In 2007, I was awarded the Queen's Service Medal (QSM) in recognition of my 50 years community service in New Zealand. I recall that following the impressive formal part of the Investiture proceedings, my family group of five were able to meet informally with the Governor-General and his wife in the Conservatory. After chatting for ten minutes or so, the official photographer came in and took a very nice group photograph to mark the occasion.

In the Boys on the Beach photo I am the boy holding the legs of the boy behind me who has his left arm round the neck of Eric Norton. Eric and I enjoyed regular correspondence over the past ten years until he died unexpectedly earlier this year at the age of 92. They have resided in Adelaide, South Australia for many years and have two sons both living nearby so his wife Jean has very good support. We keep in touch. Interestingly, Jean married Maurice Cook, another boy in the photo.

I myself am now well into my 96th year.

I just wanted to let you people know and thank you for the huge influence my association with Old St. George's and receiving my education at West Hill Boys School had on my young life. In my day the Vicar was the Reverend Whitehead who was very good and always came to Sunday School. I have listened to many of his sermons at Evensong usually seated in the front row upstairs at Old St. George's with my friends. Happy days !

With best wishes,

Joe Rodrigues

Westtown, New Plymouth 4310, New Zealand

We can't really do justice to Joe's photos in the magazine but his words can also be found on our website together with the above photograph which gives names of the other boys. We wondered if any of our readers might remember him or some of the people he mentions as being members of Old St. George's Boys Brigade?

Prayer to our Always-Good Father

Father, Thank you that you are our Father and that you love us, whoever we are, wherever we go, whatever we've done, however we feel. No matter what life brings, you never change. You are always good and always there for us, if we just turn and talk to you. Thank you for Jesus who died to make that possible. We pray in his name.

Amen.

NEW VICAR

We have now been given a date for the licensing of our new Vicar and this will take place on Sunday 11th September at 3.00p.m. Philip's title will change on that day from Priest-in-Charge to Vicar (or Incumbent). Because there are certain legal differences in the two roles, there has to be a full licensing service which will follow the same pattern as when he was licensed in March 2013.

We really hope that as many of you who are able will come along and support him in this important step.

Going For Gold

This month sees the start of the Rio de Janeiro Olympics, as the eyes of the world focus on the games. A number of New Testament letters make reference to Olympic sport including Hebrews: 'Therefore, since we are surrounded by such a great cloud of witnesses, let us throw off everything that hinders and the sin that so easily entangles, and let us run with perseverance the race marked out for us. Let us fix our eyes on Jesus, the author and perfecter of our faith' (Hebrews 12:1-2).

During the 1992 Barcelona Olympics, the British athlete Derek Redmond was running in the semi-finals of the 400 metres. About 250 metres from the finish his hamstring tore. He fell to the ground in pain and stretcher-bearers came over to him. However, Redmond wanted to finish the race and so he started hopping toward the finishing line.

Suddenly Jim Redmond, Derek's father, ran out of the stands towards him. 'You don't have to do this,' he told his son. 'Yes, I do,' said Derek, to which his father said, 'We're going to finish this together.' They completed the lap with Derek leaning on his father's shoulder. As they crossed the finish line, the spectators rose to give Derek a standing ovation. Although he didn't win an Olympic medal, Derek Redmond finished the race with his father at his side.

In our Christian race we have a great crowd of witnesses to cheer us on. We also have a heavenly Father who loves us and a Saviour who has run the race before us. Let's keep our eyes fixed on Him, to ensure we finish the race!

Saint of the Month

Octavia Hill, Social Reformer, 1912

Octavia Hill was born in Wisbech, Cambridgeshire in 1838, the daughter of a corn merchant and banker. She was influenced from an early age in social issues by her father's interest in prison reform and by her grandfather Thomas Southwood Smith, a national authority on sanitation and housing. Educated at home, she went to London in 1852 to work at the Ladies' Guild, a Christian Socialist co-operative managed by her mother, where she met John Ruskin and F.D.Maurice. She was soon put in charge of a branch engaged in teaching poor children to make toys, and so gained her first experience of the lives of the very poor.

In 1856 Octavia became secretary to the classes for women at the Working Men's College in Great Ormond Street, and a few years later she and her sisters started a school in Nottingham Place. It was while living there and visiting her poorer neighbours that she came to understand the urgency of addressing the housing problem in Victorian London. In 1864 she succeeded in interesting John Ruskin in her schemes for improving the dwellings of the poor and he advised her to put the work on a business footing. This proved to be sound advice, and her successful management led to a steadily increasing number of houses being placed under her charge. Perhaps the most important addition to her responsibilities was her appointment in 1884 by the Ecclesiastical Commissioners to manage a great part of their property first in Southwark and later elsewhere. Octavia Hill's help and advice were often sought in connection with the promotion of social reform by legislation. But her faith lay much more in the value of voluntary work, and it was with reluctance that she took part in political measures.

Though Octavia was involved in a number of voluntary organisations, she is particularly remembered for her joint initiative with Canon H.D.Rawnsley and Sir Robert Hunter in founding the National Trust in 1895 which has become Britain's leading charitable organization for preserving historical buildings and places of natural beauty. Always preferring voluntary to statutory schemes she was nevertheless persuaded to serve on the Poor Law Commission from 1905 to 1908. Her books include Homes of the London Poor and Our Common Land. Strongly motivated by her Christian faith, Octavia viewed human beings more as citizens of this world than as potential citizens of the next. Consequently, she sought to make life on earth as positive an experience as possible, particularly for the poor and the disadvantaged.

Octavia never allowed her increasing fame to undermine her personal humility and lived quietly with her sisters in Marylebone Road, where she died on 13 August 1912.
